Course Description

The very first decade of the 21st century has witnessed the world's sole remaining superpower engaging in costly and seemingly endless wars. The wars began with the 9/11 attacks on the World Trade Center towers in New York. From the American perspective, the attacks were a geopolitical disaster as they destroyed the American self-perception of insularity and impregnability. The wars of the 21st century however, cannot be studied in isolation. This course seeks to comprehend the evolving relationship between the wars of the 21st century, and the wars of the 20th century.
